Important Additional Notes:

This chart lists only the Political Science Department requirements for majors and/or secondary certification. The required Educational Studies courses for certification are described elsewhere. See chart below for Educational Studies major with Social Studies or Citizenship certification. PA Social Studies certification allows candidates to teach all 7-12 social studies courses including sociology, psychology, anthropology. PA Citizenship certification allows candidates to teach 7-12 social studies courses, but not sociology, psychology, and anthropology courses. Occasionally departments have special courses that may fulfill the required content. Please meet with your advisor or department chair to discuss such opportunities. The Department of Educational Studies works closely with each individual student to determine a semester-by-semester plan. Please see the Chair of the Department of Educational Studies to design a plan that includes Honors.

Mission Statement for Secondary Citizenship/Social Studies Education Certification Programs

The Secondary Citizenship and Social Studies Education certification programs engage students in the investigation of educational theory, policy, research, and practice. Candidates for certification develop their pedagogical content knowledge in citizenship or social studies education as well as their general knowledge of the subject. The program encourages undergraduates to think critically and creatively about the processes of teaching and adolescent learning and about the place of education in society. The program is committed to preparing students to employ evidence-based practice. Instructional practice, including the use of technology and assessments, are designed to enable preservice teachers to meet the needs of all students, including those with learning differences, and with consideration for racial, ethnic, linguistic and/or social economic diversity.
